AI & MUSIC CPD

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Ingolv Haaland, Department of Popular Music, UiA

AI and Music I (2,5 sp)

A Practice-Based Introduction to AI Tools for Primary School Music Teachers

AI and Music II (2,5sp)

Advanced Creative AI Practices (DAW) for Upper Secondary and Municipal Schools of Music and Performing Arts Educators

These micro courses aims to address a knowledge gap for teachers who wish to learn about and critically discuss how AI can be implemented in music education.

CreaTeME WP 1: Responsive Pedagogies

Asynchronous Course Design

Each course consists of 3–4 modules, including:

Instructional videos
(e.g. Suno, Moises, Audiomee, Sound ID, ElevenLabs)

Curriculum resources
(Digital guidelines and a relevant AI glossary)

Discussion threads
AI tools, Q&A, GDPR, sharing teaching designs

Assignments
Ethics and copyright, teaching designs, audio submissions

Digital Meeting Space

Three digital sessions featuring dialogue-based exchange of experiences and reflective discussion of ethics, pedagogical design, and AI tools, conducted in Zoom breakout rooms.

Limitations

Courses are free of charge, which limits the possibility of requiring paid subscriptions to AI tools

Canvas is not optimal for interaction in discussion threads

General admission requirements: Participants are not always music teachers or musicians

Experiences So Far

Variable participation in digital sessions, as attendance is not mandatory.

Digital sessions scheduled from 6:00–8:00 PM; participants express a clear preference for continuing with evening sessions rather than moving them to daytime.

Participation numbers: approximately 30 students per course in spring and around 20 students in autumn.

MU-917 KI og musikk I - En praktisk innføring i KI - verktøy for musikklærere i grunnskolen

https://www.uia.no/studier/emner/2025/var/mu-917.html

MU-918 KI og musikk II- En praktisk innføring i KI-verktøy for musikklærere i videregående skole og kulturskole

https://www.uia.no/studier/emner/2025/var/mu-918.html

ingolv.haaland@uia.no